

Beverly Ann Boggs Heintz, Storyteller

I was born in Covington, Ohio, and I am the oldest of four. I attended Ball State University for two years. I married Ken Heintz in 1973, and transferred to The Ohio State University where I graduated with a degree in Speech Communications and Theatre in 1975. I went on to earn my Masters' Degree in Storytelling from East Tennessee State University in 1998. We have three wonderful adult children: Abigayle, 'Abbie'; Kenneth, 'Chip'; and Veronica, 'Roni'. I have told stories in Jonesborough, Tennessee. I have been a featured teller and workshop presenter at The Network of Biblical Storytellers Annual gatherings in Atlanta, as well as doing many local school and library shows in the 5-state Northlands Storytelling region. I am a past president of the Riverbend Storytelling Guild in the Quad Cities, and I am a member of both the Northlands Storytelling Network and the National Storytelling Network. I have a Masters' Degree in Storytelling from East Tennessee State University, and I am a former drama director. I currently teach creative writing and speech at North High School in Davenport, Iowa. I have also released two CD's, available through Coop Records of the Quad Cities and the Davenport Borders Bookstore as well as from me.
