

Herb Stevenson, One White Horse Standing <http://www.onewhitehorsestanding.com/about.htm>

"My workshops are designed to create a space where people can discover and claim parts of themselves that have not had a chance to be. As such, when they leave, they can be more fully who they really are."

Herb Stevenson bridges the worlds of business and spiritual healing. Until recently, he was Executive Vice President of Young & Associates, Inc. in Kent, Ohio. He is a nationally recognized author, trainer, and management consultant. He has published 26 books on various aspects of banking and business. He is listed in seven Who's Who, including Who's Who in Finance and Industry and Who's Who in American Law.

As part of his efforts to reclaim his Native American Indian heritage (Shawnee and Cherokee), he has been exploring indigenous healing practices, such as the shamanic use of rocks and crystals in the healing process. He has established a private practice in crystal energy healing, specializing in trauma-related work. He provides workshops around the country upon request.

Herb developed Medicine of Men, a one-year, male initiation program designed to assist men through the process of maturity. He facilitates Men's Circles in Cleveland, Ohio. Herb is member of the faculty of the Hero's Journey, a men's program in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Herb develops ceremonial and healing wands, scepters, and staffs as part of his spiritual practice. Each piece is custom made according to the needs of the person commissioning the healing tool.

Herb has been studying cross-cultural healing practices for nearly ten years. He completed Angeles Arrien's Four-Fold Way program. He has studied with Brooke Medicine Eagle, and Felicitas Goodman. He has worked and studied extensively with Myron Eshowsky, a certified shamanic counselor via the Foundation of Shamanic Studies. He has studied Celtic Shamanism with Tom Cowan and Siberian Shamanism with Olga Kharitidi.

Herb received a BA in Economics and Communication at Wright State University in Dayton, Ohio, and an MA in Psychology with a diversity specialization from Cleveland State University.

Herb is on the faculty of the Gestalt Institute of Cleveland, where he teaches in both the clinical and the organizational centers.
